Analytics for Operational Improvement in Healthcare

Diwas KC
Emory University

Abstract

I will talk about my experiences using data from hospitals to drive operational improvements, particularly in the areas of capacity management and patient flow. I will use examples from a couple of hospital settings, including the ICU and Outpatient Scheduling, and (if time permits), the Emergency Department.